Regarding: Request for Documents(Evidence)/Pre-Action Notice.

Dear Messrs. Lewis, McGrath and Attorney Dooney:

The undersigned, Raheem J. Brennerman ("Brennerman") respectfully submits this correspondence in response to your reply letter dated March 17, 2022 and in compliance with the civil procedure rule and applicable laws of England and Wales, the rules and regulations of the Solicitor Regulation Authority ("SRA") in England and Wales, the U.S. Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, to respectfully clarify any ambiguity with his February 28, 2022 letter and notify you that Linklaters LLP has committed a crime against him and demonstrated lack of moral aptitude by acting inappropriately.

Brennerman writes pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Solicitor Regulation Authority and in compliance with applicable laws of England and Wales to notify you that Linklaters LLP through one of its partners, Attorney Paul Stephen Hessler conspired and intentionally withheld the production of pertinent and exculpatory evidence, in a deliberate endeavor to deprive him [Brennerman] of his Constitutional right to liberty, as more succinctly highlighted within the February 28, 2022 correspondence.

Linklaters LLP's conduct advised hereof, deprived Brennerman of his Constitutional and civil rights in the United States and his Human rights and civil liberties in the United Kingdom. Mr. Hessler is/was a partner at Linklaters LLP at the time of the said conduct, thus, Linklaters LLP is jointly and severally liable for Mr. Hessler's conduct.

Brennerman does not intend to engage in any protracted correspondence(s) beyond clarifying his position and affording you the opportunity to provide appropriate response.

Brennerman is currently in discussion with investigative journalists who are investigating the matter with the intention to publish a detailed story on the situation and the broader conspiracy to deprive Brennerman of his Constitutional rights to liberty as more succinctly presented in court filings. See U.S. v. Brennerman, case no. 17 Cr. 337 (RJS), EFC Nos. 274; see also Brennerman v. U.S., case no. 22 Cv. 996 (LAK), EFC No. 17 and U.S. v. Brennerman et. ano., case no. 17 Cr. 155 (LAK), EFC No. 227.

Furthermore, Brennerman intends to file formal compliant with the Solicitor Regulation Authority ("SRA"), the Serious Fraud Office ("SFO") and any other relevant authorities in both United States and United Kingdom, in addition to taking appropriate action necessary, as permitted by law.

The above is respectfully submitted to clarify any ambiguity.

Dated: April 7, 2022

White Deer, Pa. 17887-1000

Respectfully submitted

/s/ Raheem J. Brennerman
